After two days of rain before the start of the IM-Hamburg, everybody was happy in the morning to get wet only of the Alster-Wasser. The sun was seen at least for some minutes...the bike part was typical hamburg weather cold, wet, and in the end some sun. After 140 km on the bike i got a little warm, because of the sun. The run part was more pleasure. Sun, a lot of people on the run course at the Alster. I was very happy to reach the famous finish-line at least at daylight.
